Johnny Quinn

“Thank you so much for inspiring all of us at the Government Contract Management Symposium in Bethesda, MD. As I listened to your talk, I walked away with a renewed sense of resilience. I learned that no matter how bad things may seem in the moment, the moment passes, and there is something even better that we were meant to do! Living through the uneasiness of life truly makes you stronger and more able to take whatever life sends your way. Our attendees loved your content and the opportunity to meet you afterwards! Please include me as a reference in the future.”

- Michelle Currier, Chief Learning Officer, National Contract Management Association

“Johnny Quinn recently spoke at our Senior Leadership Team Offsite. He closed day one of our meeting with energy and passion that put the perfect cap on the day! Feedback from the team has been so positive, and I would highly recommend Johnny to deliver inspiration in the moment and well beyond. With a meaningful message of never giving up even when faced with adversity, Johnny shared his touching story of a successful journey that took several turns ... we each determine the direction we go in life based on decisions we make, even when life says it's not so ... a motivational message at a much-needed time.”

- Ilias Simpson, CEO & President, Radial

“ Johnny Quinn's keynote set the tone of the virtual meeting for the entire day. I had never experienced a speaker before who was so inspiring and related so well to the audience, especially delivering it on Zoom. He had over 30 questions from the audience in the Team's chat box. There were about 50 partner attendees from across the U.S. and Canada. We received quite a few attendee requests to have him return to a live conference. We can't wait to bring Johnny back to speak in person.”

- Joe Tarasco, CEO, Accountants Advisory Group, LLC

“ Johnny, thank you again for being the keynote speaker at our National Sales Meeting in Atlanta. You were a true hit! You were referenced multiple times on the main stage by presenters throughout the remainder of the event, and many folks I talked to shared how impactful your presentation and lessons were to them. Awesome to hear!”

- Derek Miller, Chief Sales Officer, Serta Simmons Bedding

“I had over 30 speakers reach out to me but had already decided after I spoke with Johnny Quinn that I did not need to look any further. Johnny's story was compelling, and his sincerity, charm, and most of all, his enthusiasm won us over. Johnny's positive energy immediately resonated with my leaders and our CEO even ordered 100 autographed copies of Johnny's book on the webinar, that's how well Johnny connected with our team! We plan on bringing Johnny back for an in-person event soon.”

- Jeanne S. Mulkeen, Chief HR Officer, Cornerstone Health Services, Inc.

“Our organization was faced with yet another annual conference via virtual platforms. By this time, I don’t know anyone excited or attentive after an hour of a four-day conference staring at their screen. However, as a testament to Johnny’s infectious energy, we not only kept our audience engaged but also energetic for the duration of our conference. Johnny is a light beaming in the darkness, beckoning all who are near to seek him out. I cannot speak highly enough of Johnny and how much we enjoyed his keynote. We will be working together again.”

- Jeff Kaus, Executive Director, Wyoming Primary Care Association

From the moment Johnny took the stage, it was clear to all that whatever expectations we had were about to be dramatically exceeded! Johnny weaves multiple life lessons into a compelling personal narrative. Laced with both dramatic examples and humor, he created an experience that all attendees agreed was the highlight of our three-day program. “Johnny, I want you to know how much your presentation meant to me and to our members at MGI. You really left a lasting impression on everyone, and your honesty and sincerity are so wonderful and refreshing. I have been a part of MGI for over 20 years, and I can honestly say that your presentation was by far the most memorable and meaningful to us. We know how challenging it is to be a CPA these days, and the pandemic has made everything more challenging for all of us. Your presentation came at just the right time and really resonated with all of us. You were also very generous to share your morning and evening routines, and your blogs are really excellent. I especially love your smoothie recipe! You are inspiring so many people, and this positive energy is so important, especially now! We hope to book you again to speak at our next event.”
